A COLLECTION OF ART INSPIRED BY SIR TERRY PRATCHETT'S AND NEIL GAIMAN'S

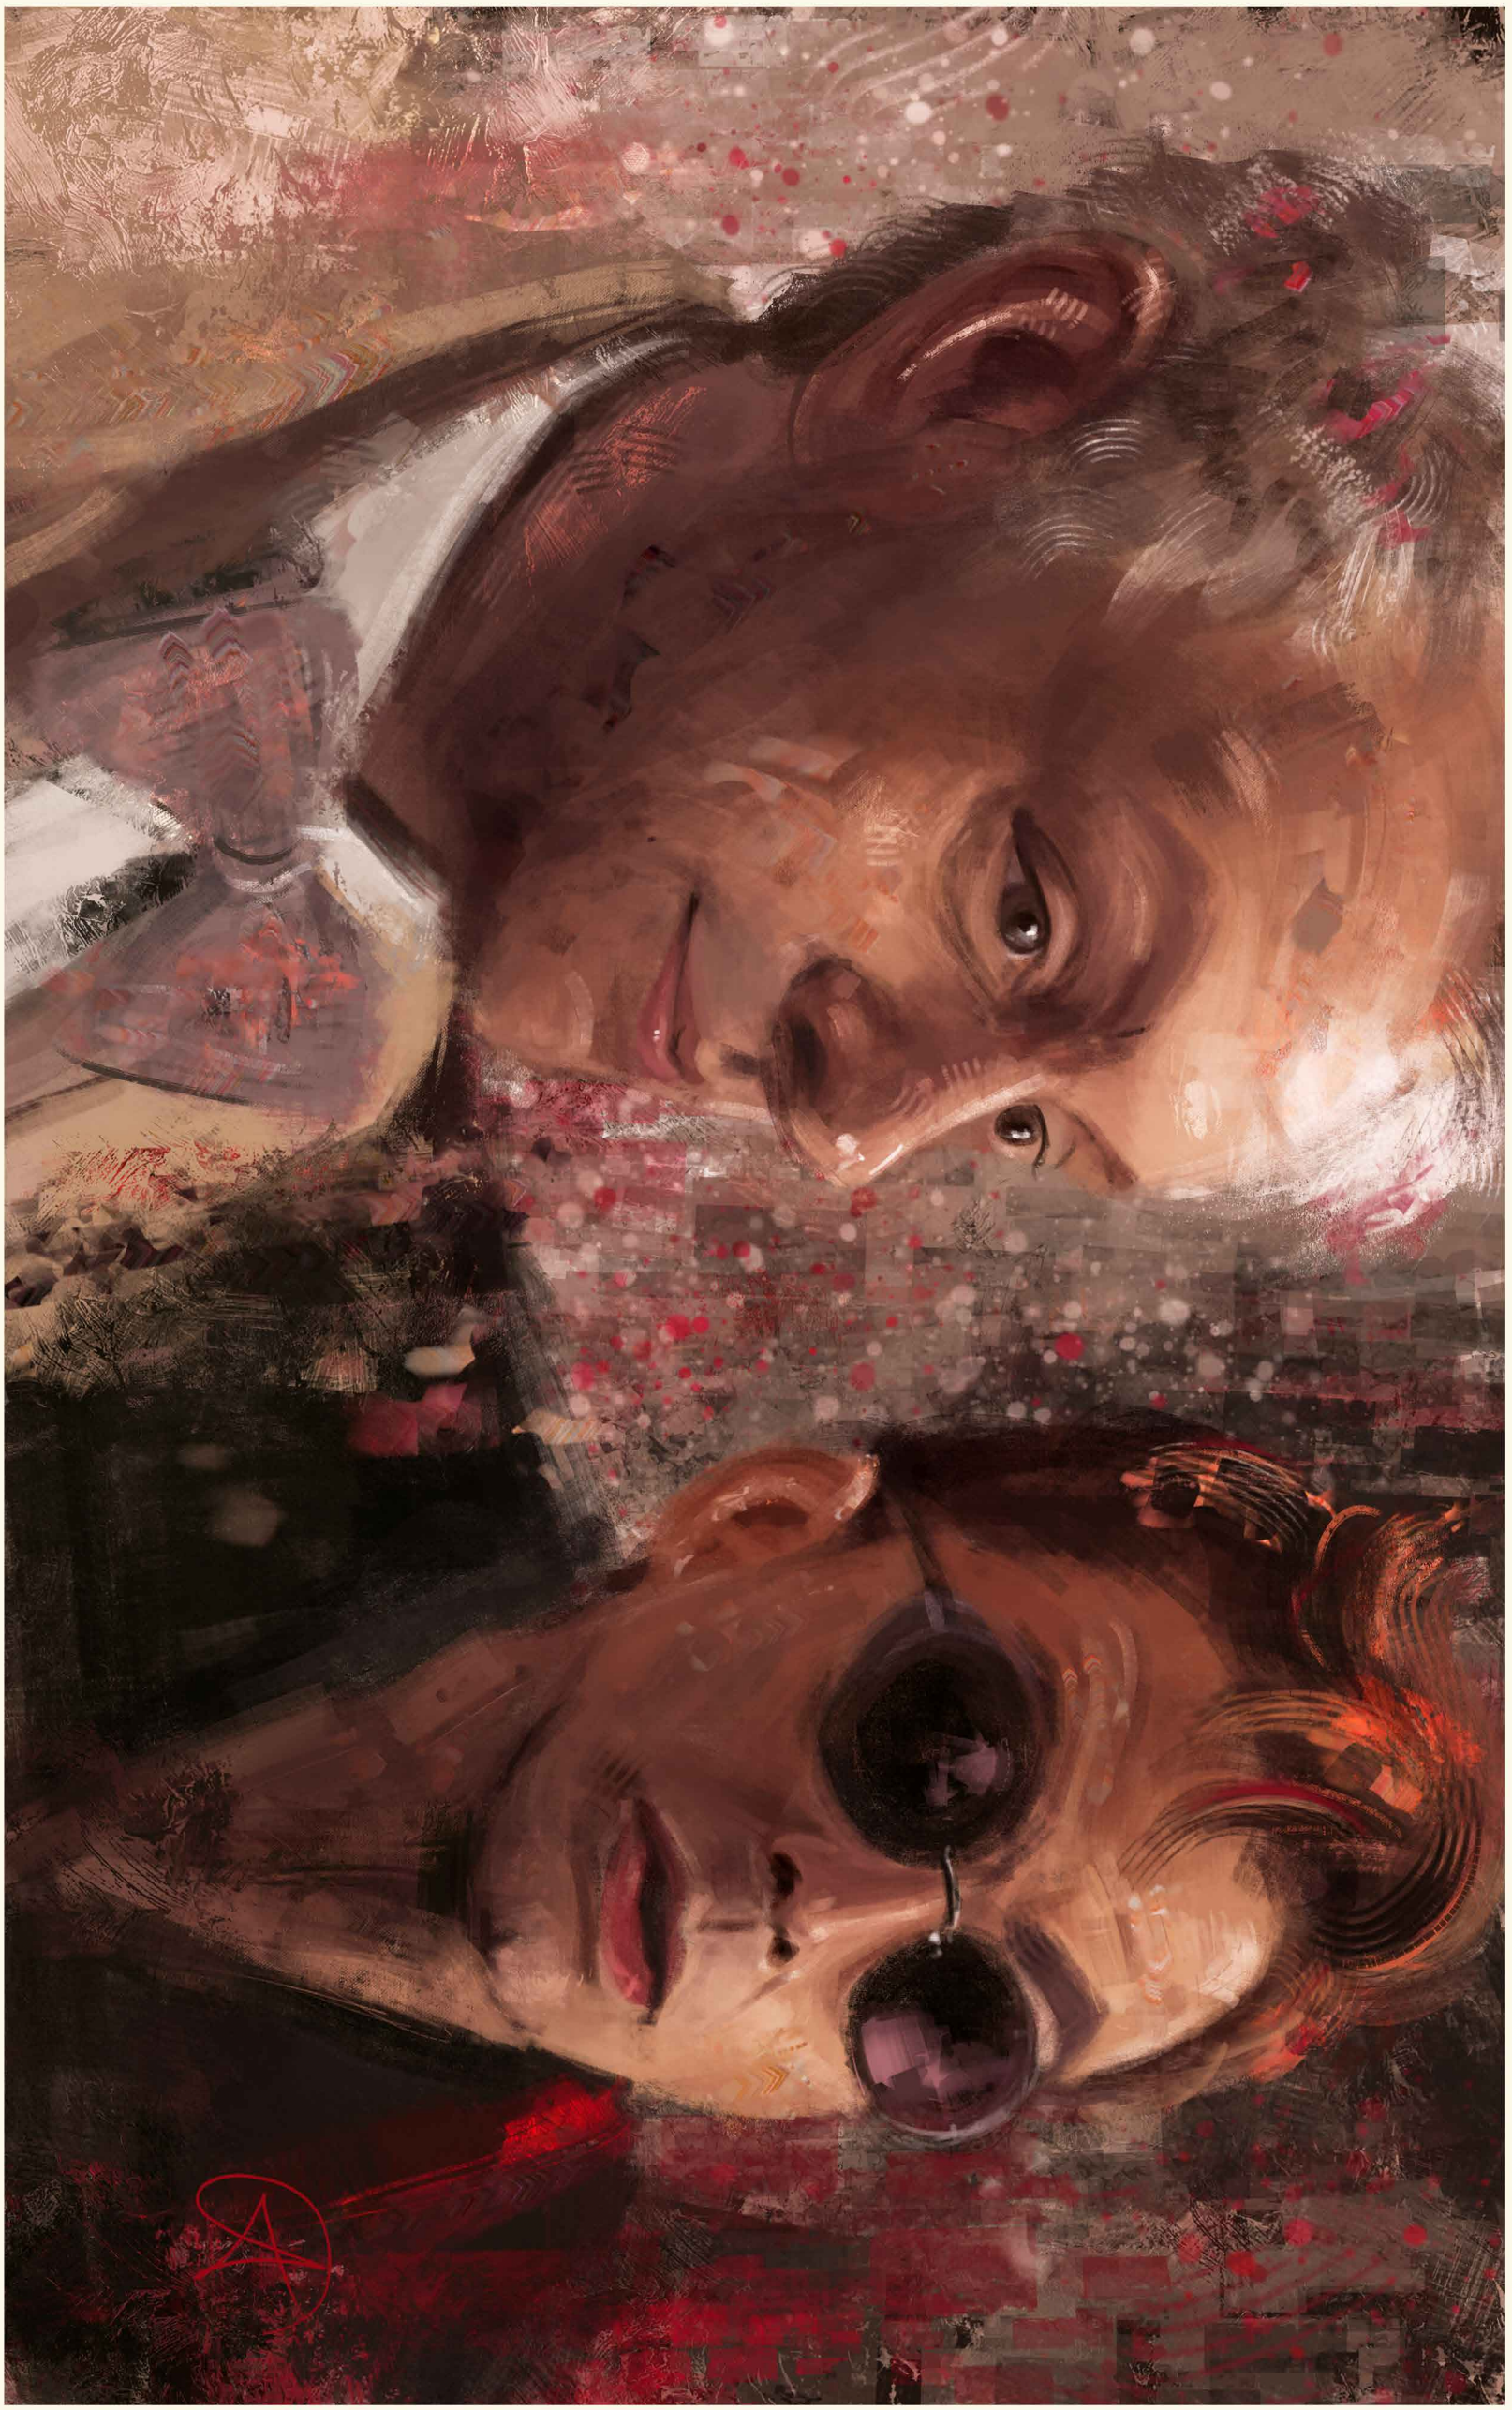
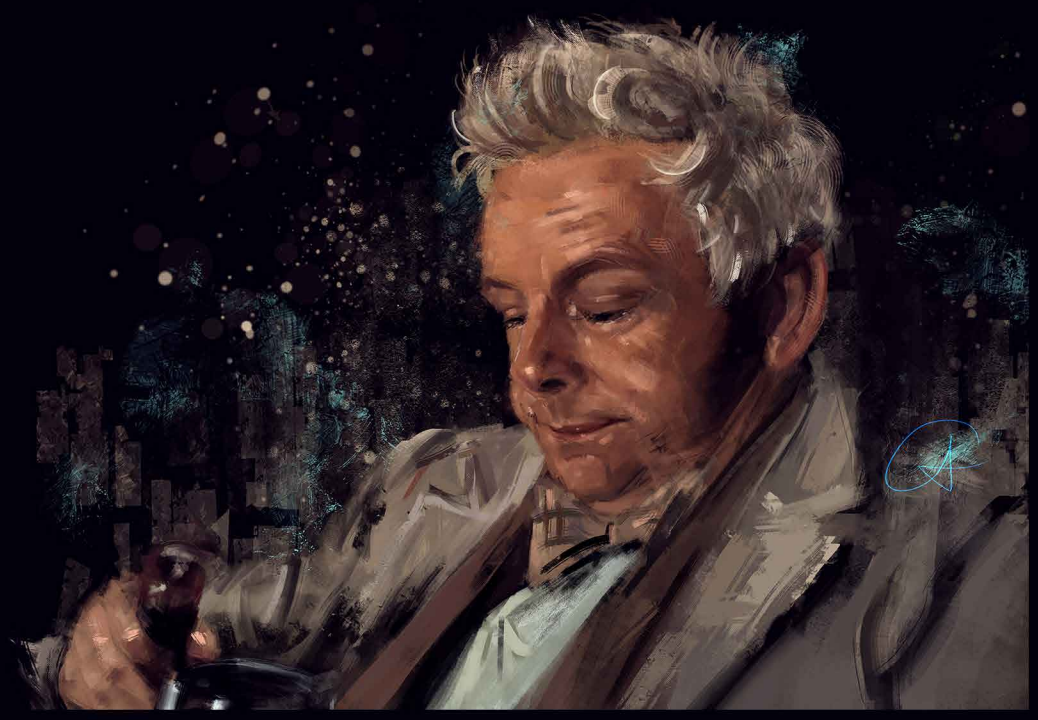
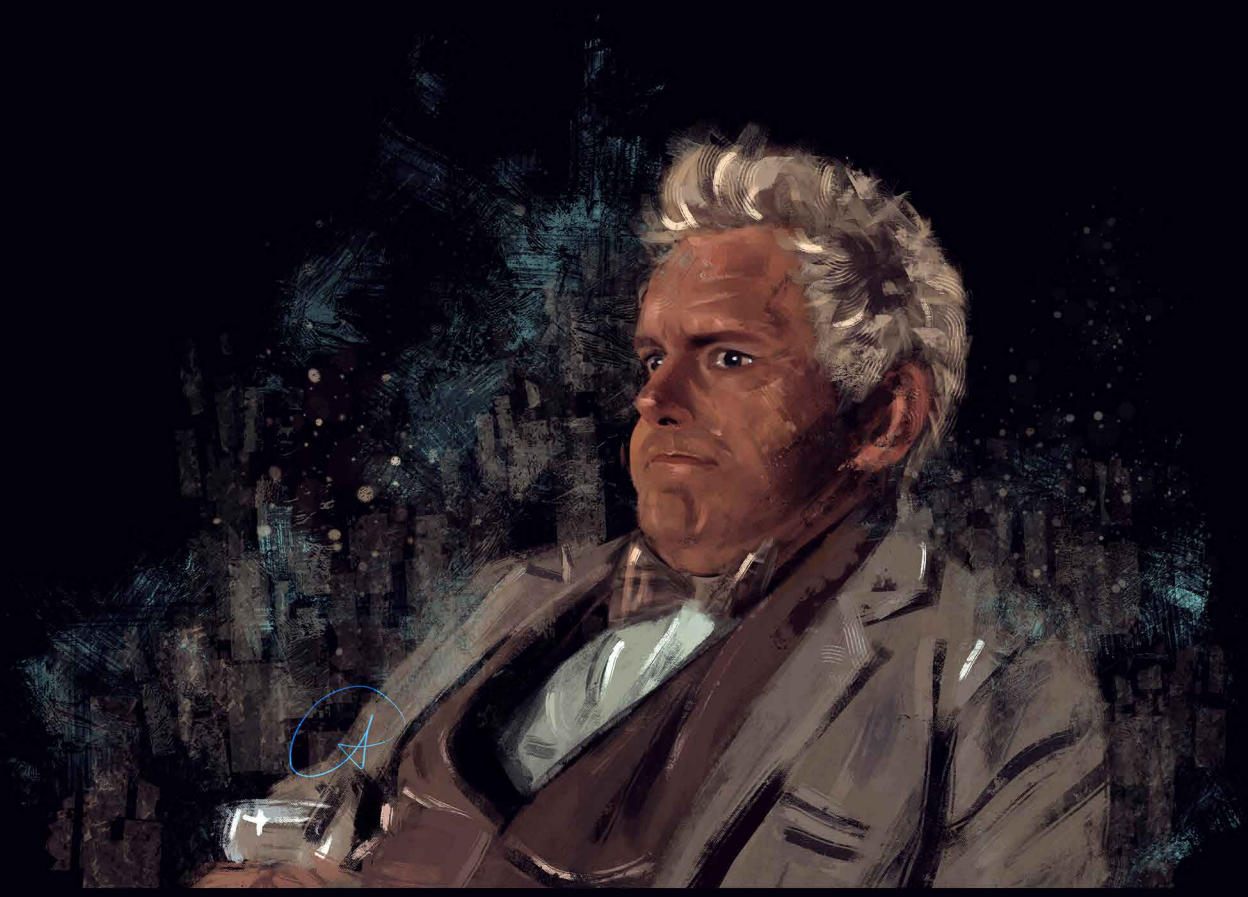
"Good Omens"



St. James Park, London, 1862



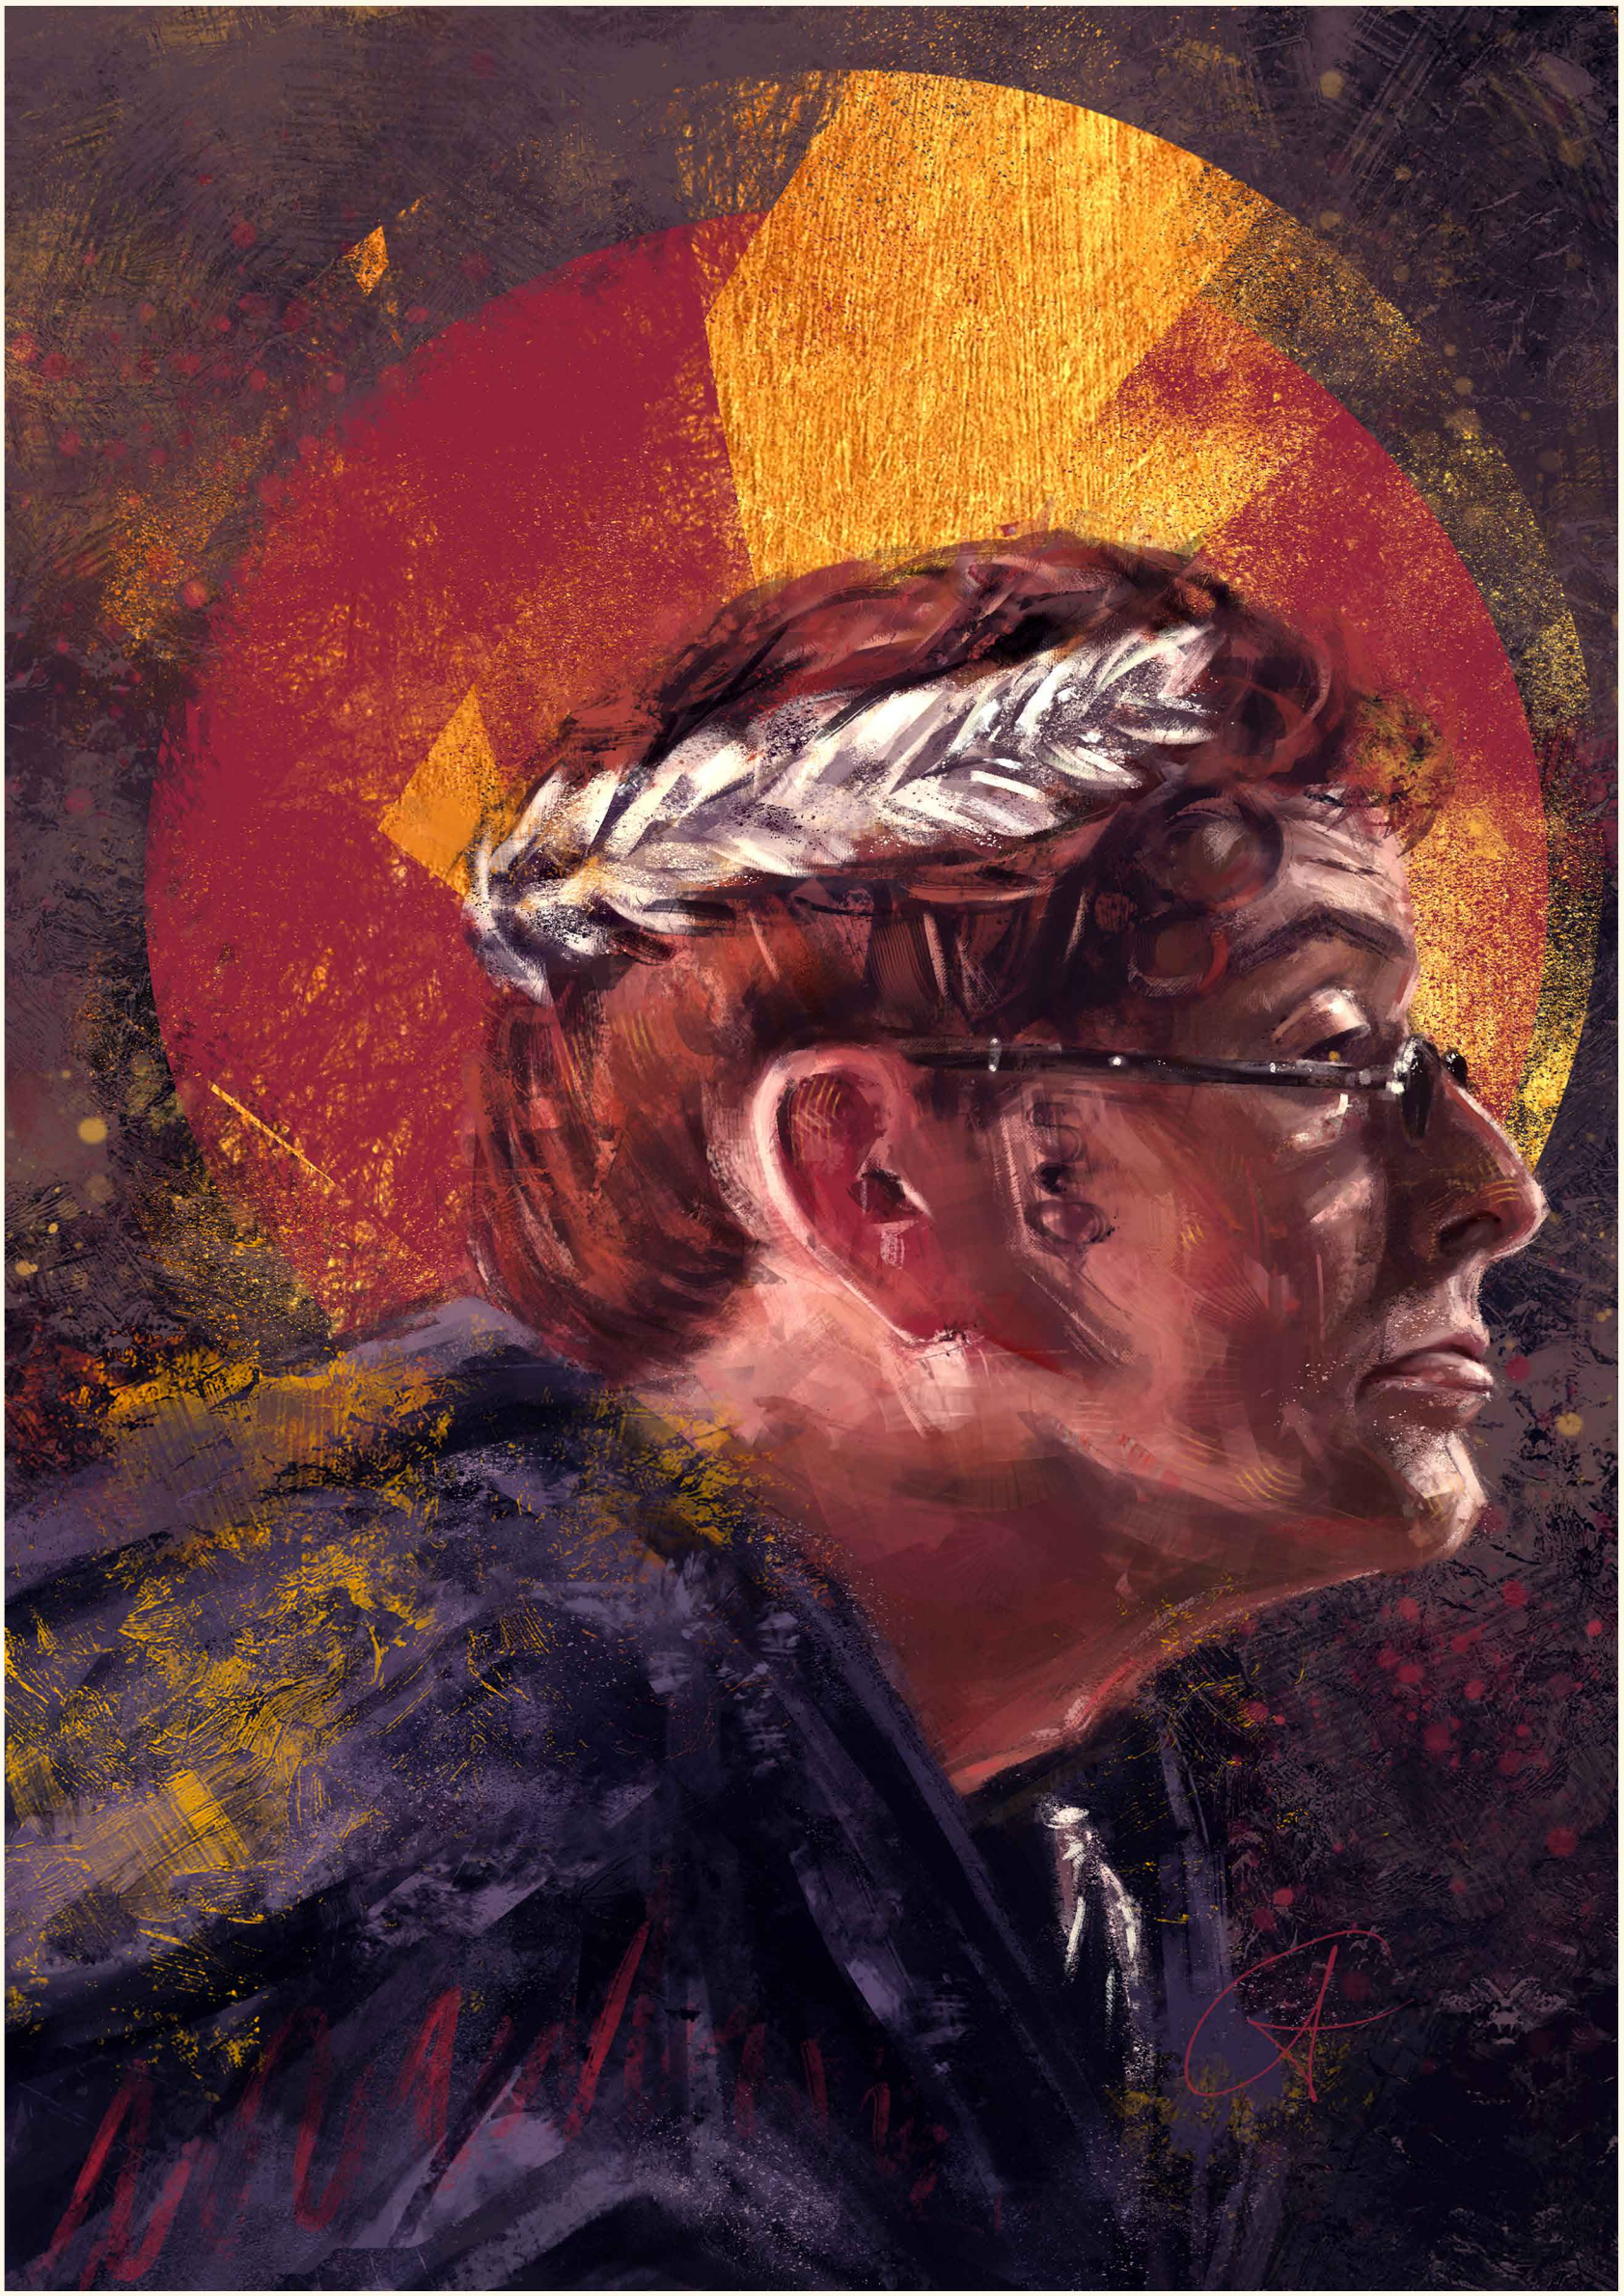


Golgotha, 33 AD

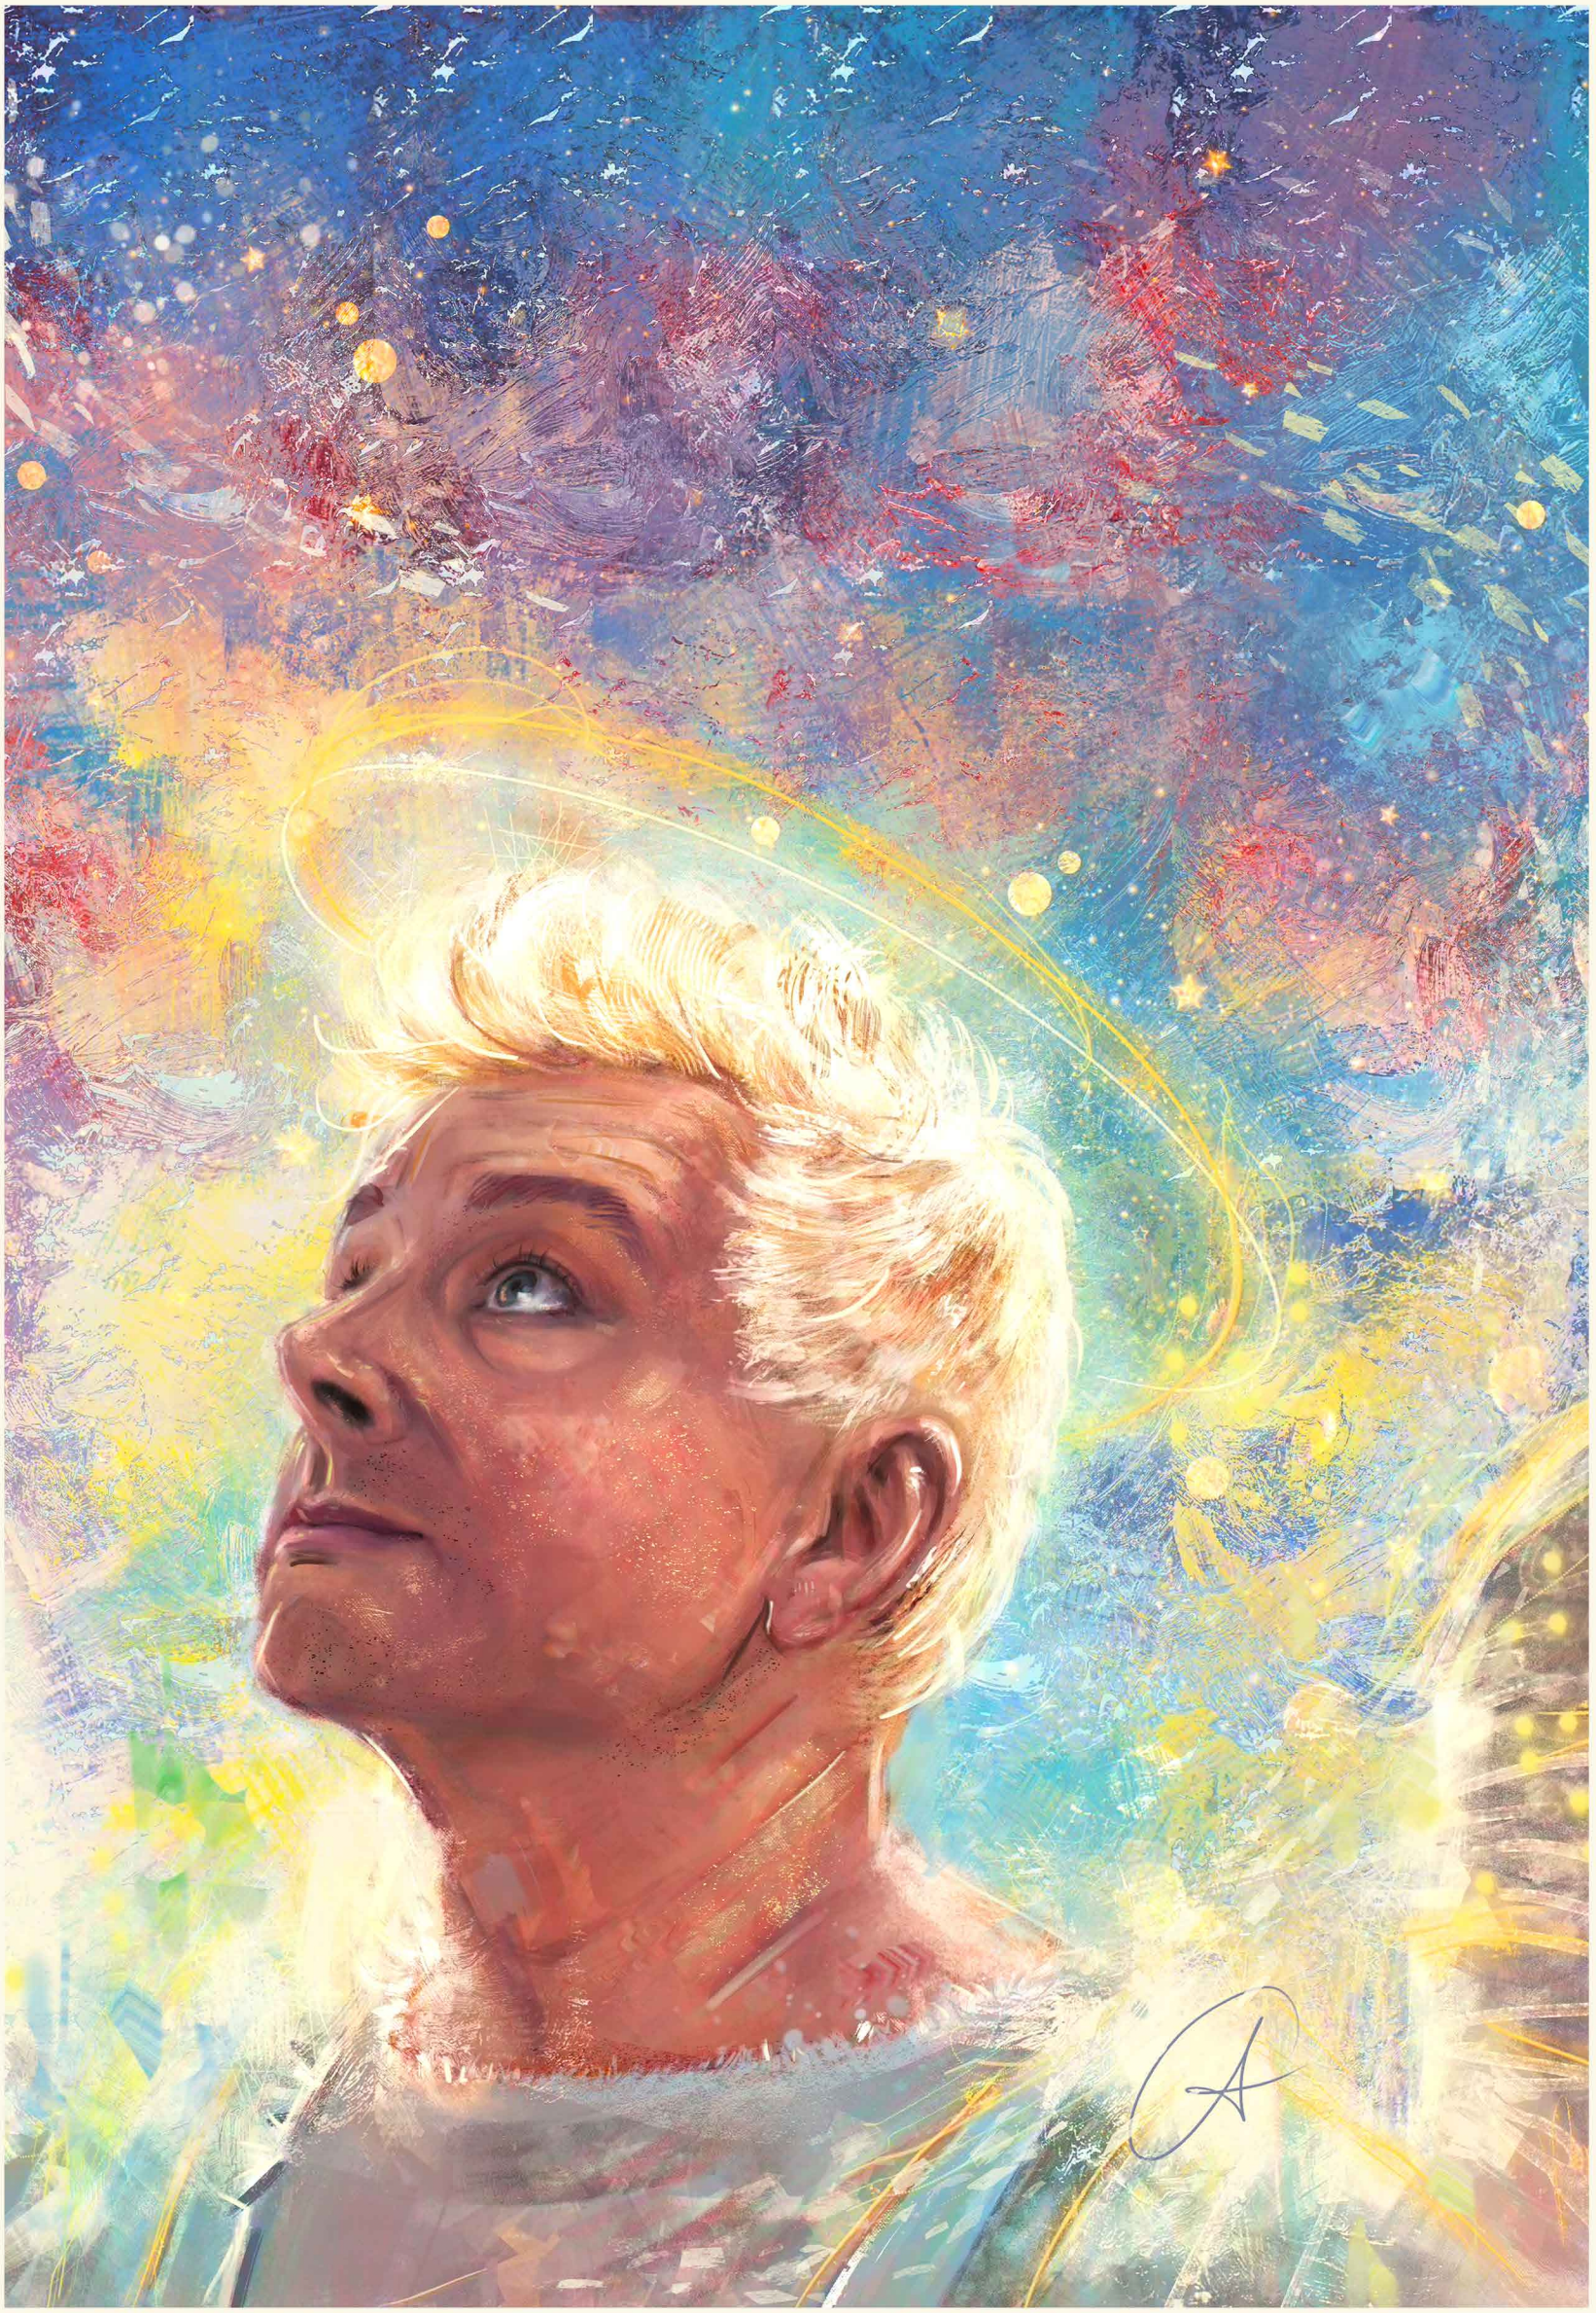
”How kind.”

THE Southern Pansy

"Get thee behind me, foul fiend."

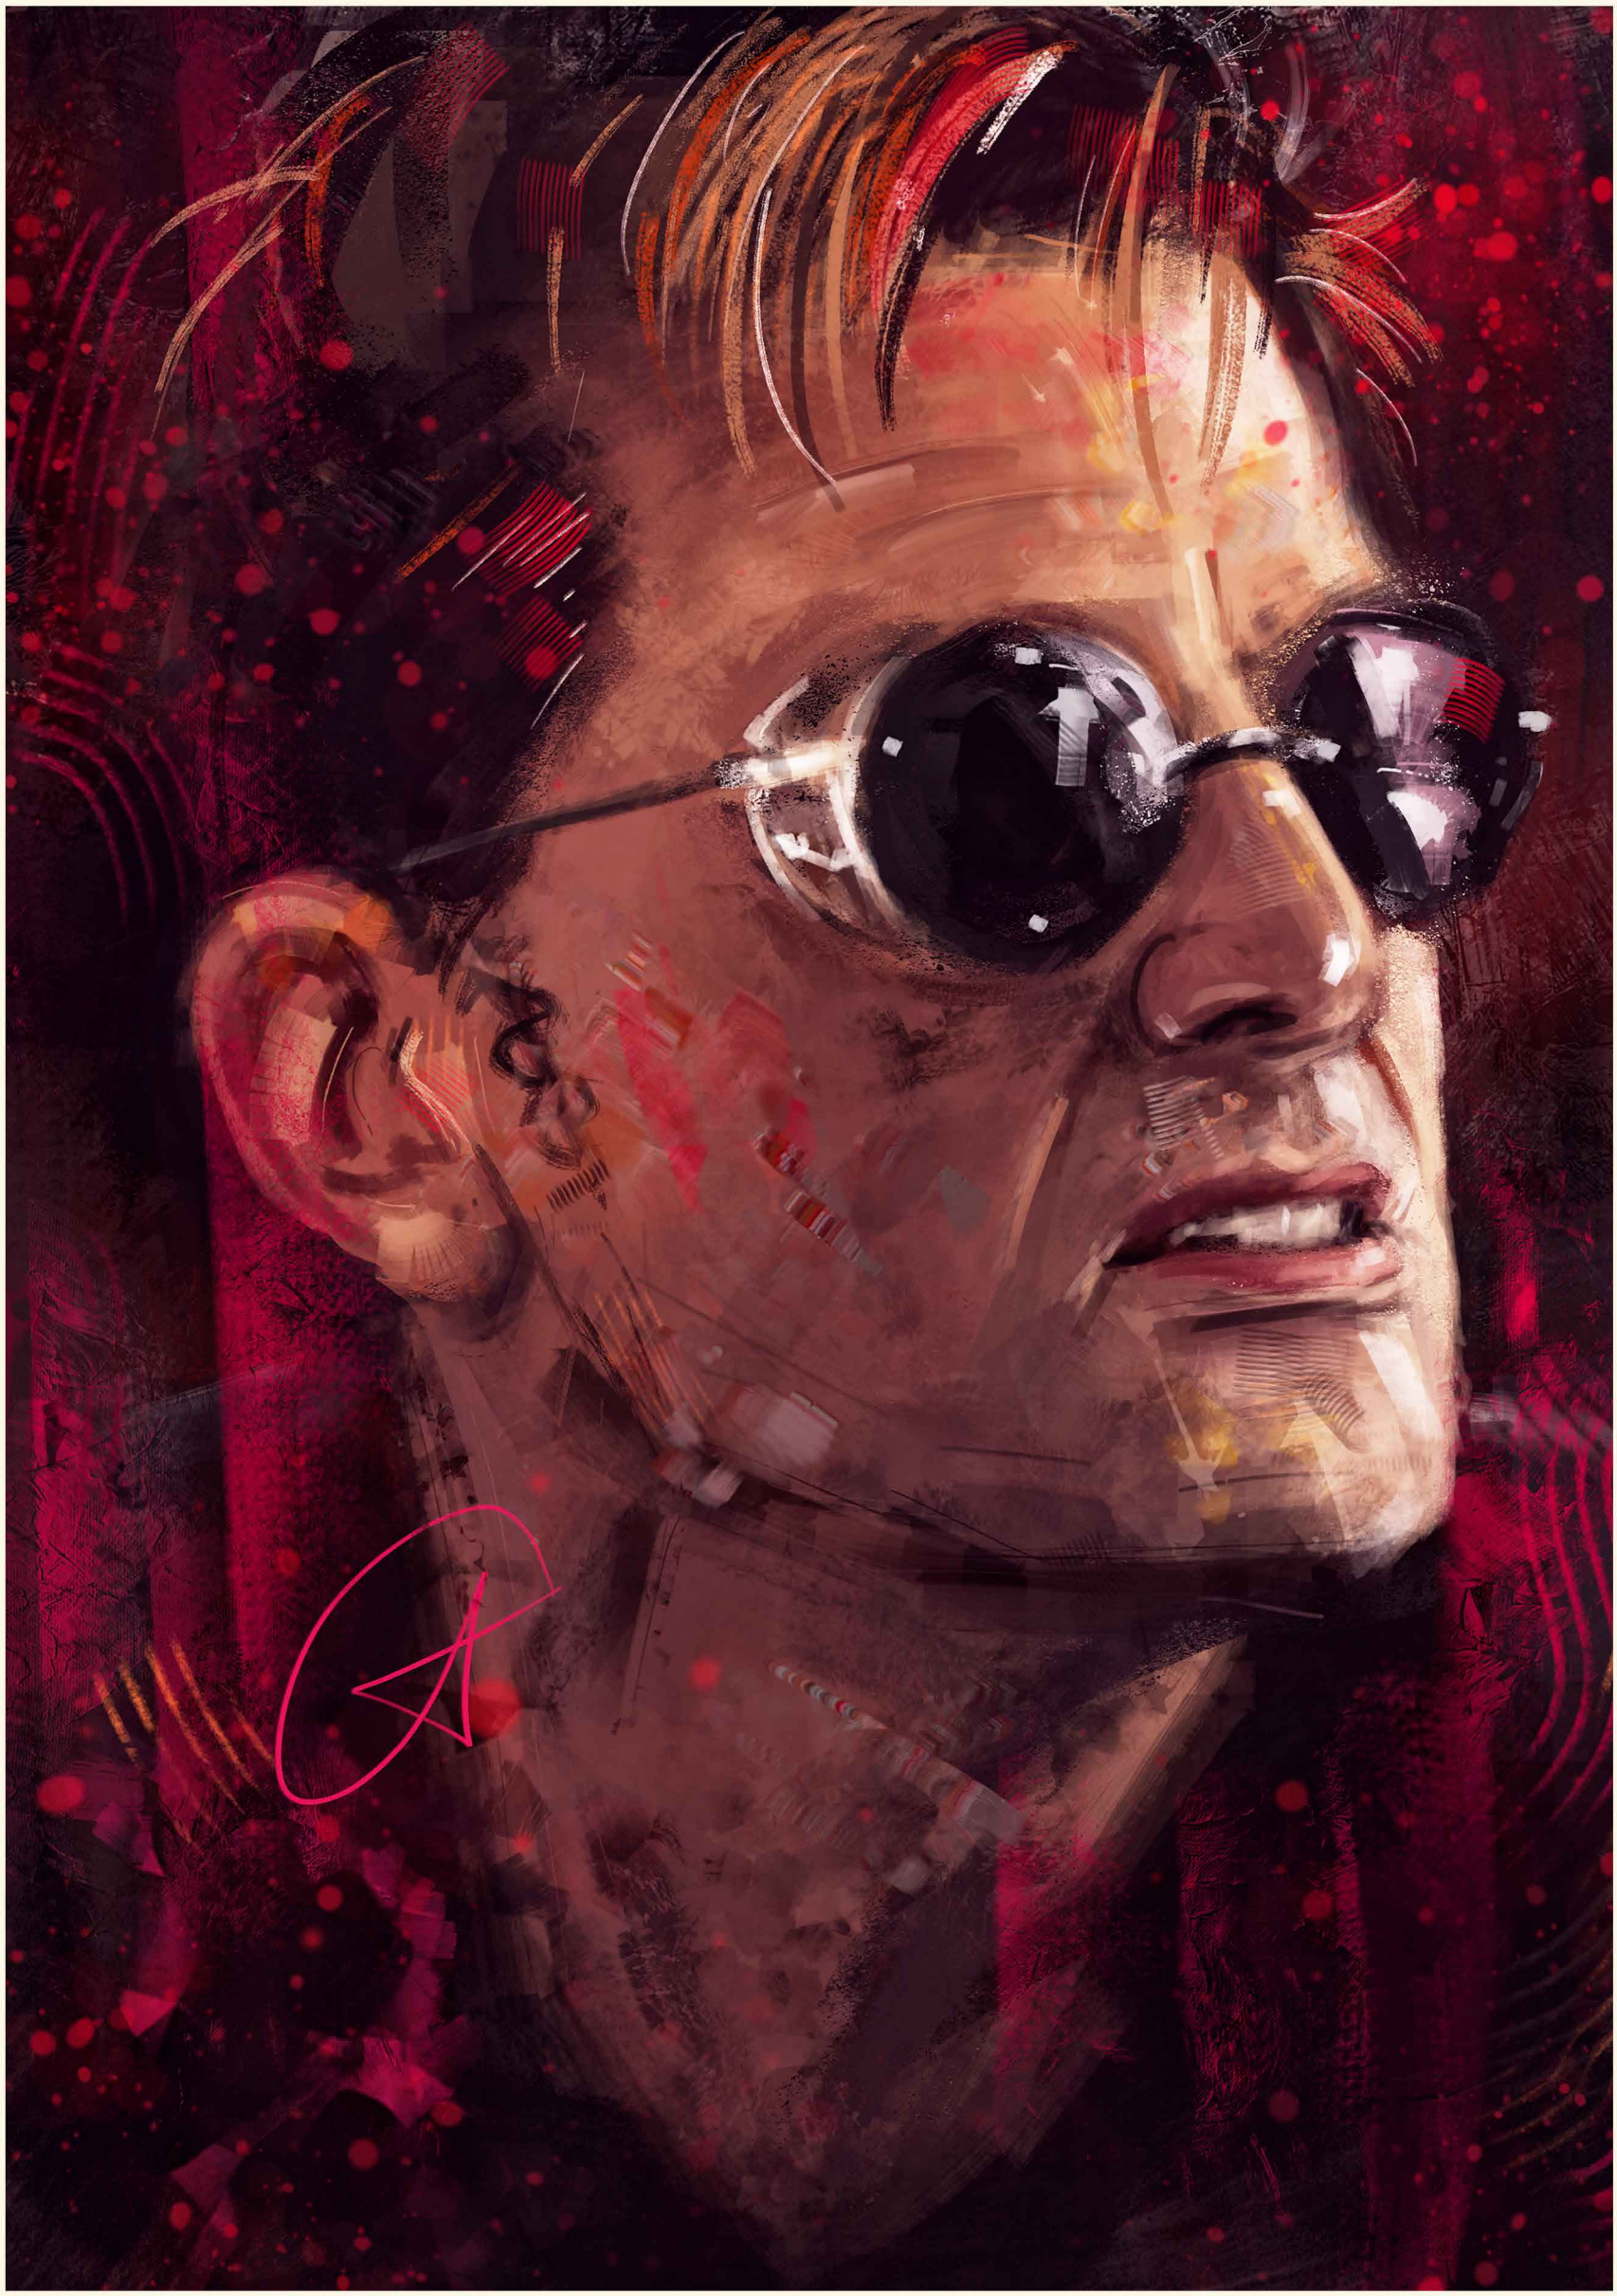


"Still a demon, then?"



"Somebody to love..."

The Globe, 1601



"There needn't be a war. We can save everyone."

"I'm a demon. I'm not nice."

"At a guess, they'll pretend it never happened."

"I'm...uh...looking for a higher authority."

"It's over."

“A little demonic

miracle of my own.”

"You go too fast for me, Crowley."

Neil Gaiman

Sir Terry Pratchett

"THERE WOULD BE OTHER SUMMERS, BUT THERE WOULD NEVER BE ONE LIKE THIS. EVER AGAIN."
